We play a little game with Life
Each of us has a part, a major role
And our own private stage.

We play a little game of Changes
Each new season and each
old familiar corner
Reminds us of the change
in us.

We play a little game
with People
Joiners and Supporters
all seeking the activity,
The excitement of our private worlds.

We play a little game of Exploration
In an academic adventure
in January
Or a quiet "all-nighter"
alone.

We play a little game of Importance
Striving to be "someone"
and meeting people
Who already are.

We play a little game
of Searching For ourselves in friendship,
for ourselves in love
For ourselves.

We play our little games here each day.
Under the stage, we find our place and our part
So that we may play a larger game someday
In a larger world.
For Games are real . . .

dedication

For your wholehearted support of student life and student interests

For the unselfish and lengthy hours you spend in administrative work

For your sincere promotion of the Interim as a highly creative academic experience

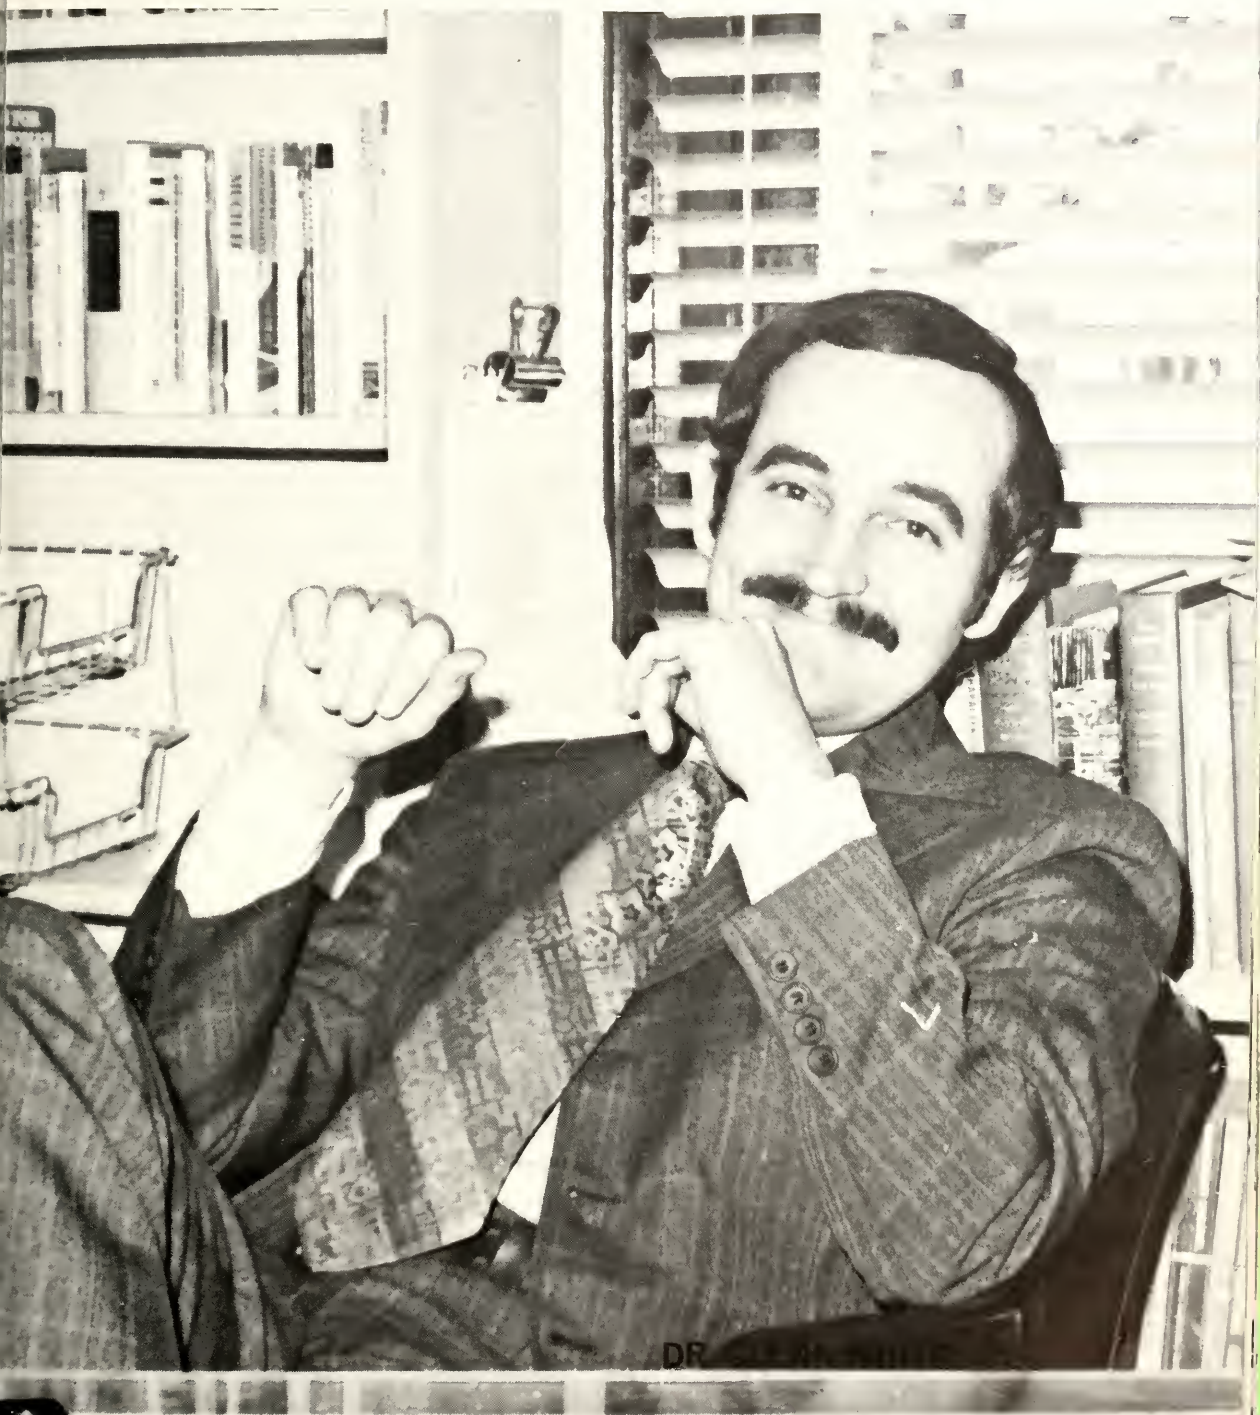

For your belief in us as unique human beings capable of great things

For you, Dr. Glenn, because we care

We, the Senior Class, dedicate the 1971 HACAWA to

Dr. Glenn E. Whitesides

THE INTRUDERS . . . September concert brought beach memories ("Love is like a baseball game . . .") and the group urged the fired up crowd to join the beat ("Cowboys to cow-girls . . ."). THE FRIENDS OF DISTINCTION . . . Highlight of Homecoming . . . fast moving concert including all the favorites ("Time waits for no one . . .") . . . chic Jessica and Charlene in midis and the other groovin' Friends made everyone leave humming ("I could live without love . . .")

Hod David touched the many who filled the center "Ski Lodge" during Winter Weekend. His stirring concert offered the audience original selections ranging from "The Spiro Agnew Watch" to his new musical production.

"To me, the music of Beethoven and of the other great composers is providing in these terribly discouraging times one of the chief reasons for continuing to take an optimistic view of Man's fate."

William S. Newman
September 28, 1970

"All hope for the 70's is on the college campuses, but will our political institutions change fast enough to adjust themselves to the technological changes that have so transformed our society?"

Sandy Vanocur
November 9, 1970

"We need to devise curricula content and raise expenditures to help young Negroes in their search for identity, and, at the same time, avoid their becoming racists."
(Saturday Review)

Stephen Wright
October 12, 1970

Clark Terry, well known to jazz music fans as the featured trumpeteer with the Doc Severinson orchestra on "The Tonight Show," entertained for Jazz Festival on October 17.

"As long as we continue to admit a majority of unmotivated students to college — there for degrees, husbands, social life and what not — then we have to teach the use of undisciplined time. We might as well be honest with ourselves — most students when not told to do something, do nothing but goof off, talk, and play cards. To me, this is the most telling fact of our failure as educators — we have failed to make them want to learn."

Sylvia Wilkinson
Interim 1971

Above: Janica Bofto and Linda Larson as Mrs. Antrobus and Gladys

L.R. PLAYMAKERS' Theme for '70-71, "MAN'S STRUGGLE TO SURVIVE" . . . Thorton Wilder's unorthodox statement in "THE SKIN OF OUR TEETH" . . . 'Oh, oh, oh, six o'clock and the master's not home yet' . . . Freshmen, new blood to drama . . . October 21, 22, 23 . . . 'Waters of the Atlantic cover the stage (Believe it or not)' . . . dinosaurs extinct, Noah's ark . . . and man escapes by the skin . . . "and a truer word was never said!" . . .

Moliere, alive and well in THE IMAGINARY INVALID . . . 17th Century French setting with audience on stage with actors . . . an arena production . . . eight foot round bed . . . doctors put-down . . . "SOLD OUT" . . . December 7, 8, 9, 10, and 11 . . . "It'll take at least ten medicines and a dozen enemas to undo the damage she's done" . . . authentic setting and costumes, and antic style . . . the Playmakers' own . . .

Interim production . . . THE THREEPENNY OPERA . . . Playmakers and Department of Music combine to make musical statement: "What makes a man survive? He lives on others!" . . . 102 in class . . . "Oh, the shark has pretty teeth, dear" . . . February 11, 12, and 13 . . . a wall of headlines brings contemporary meaning to Brecht and Weill . . . "Happy ending, nice and tidy" . . . "Victoria's Messenger riding comes" . . . "If on our real woes a messenger descended" . . . "It seems that circumstance won't have it so!" . . .

The beginning of "our" year . . . freshmen girls and their pocketbooks . . . that opening convocation . . . friendly meetings at that first pep rally . . . the shaving cream flows at RAT COURT . . . a new freshman moves in her "essential" stuffed animal . . . and to top it off, the upperclassmen present the Activities Fair . . .

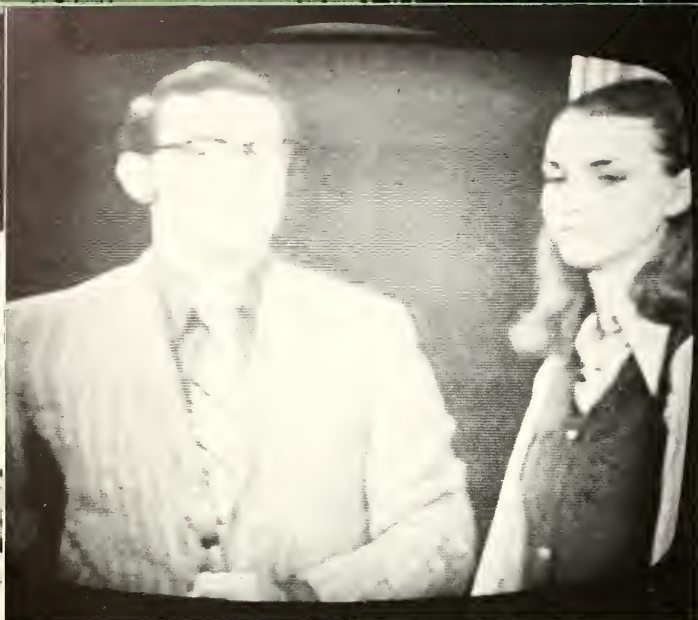

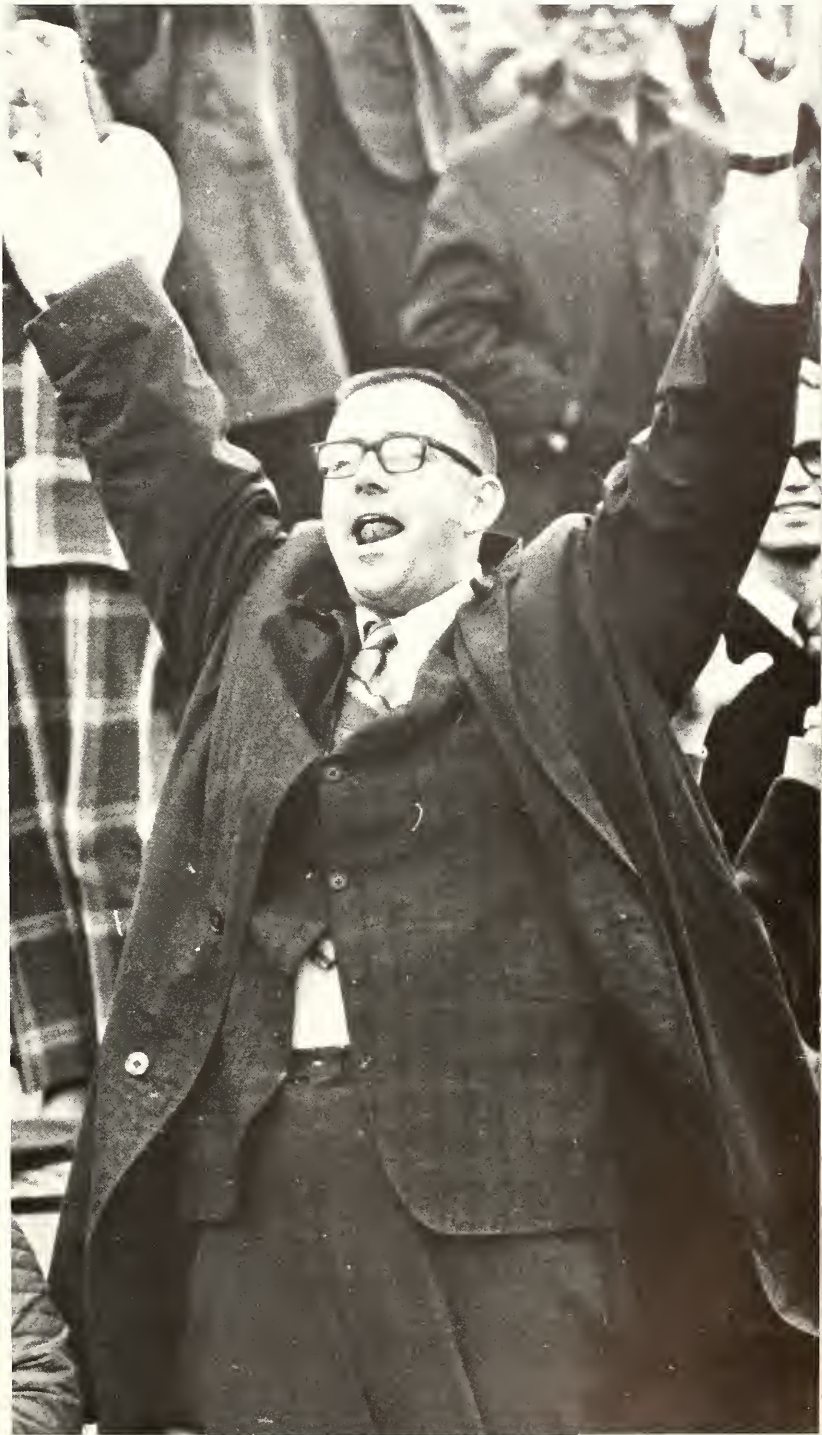

The players and their fans . . . a successful football season . . . the pep rally . . . McRee heading for that pass . . . the screams of approval as fists are raised . . . Bartles and Birmingham confer . . . THE RAIN POURS . . . and our charming "FISH" as Homecoming Queen.

The places we go . . . on the tube . . . in concert . . . to the community . . . backstage in the theatre . . . and in the football stands . . . all a part of the active life . . . the life we love . . .

The sports scene at L.R. . . the basketball BEARS dunk . . . that last ball for victory . . . Dr. "Ellis G." keeps tabs on the football BEARS . . . those loyal cheerleaders cheer their team to victory even in Westchester, Pa. . . and then return to home field with new "signs" of success . . .

WELCOME
NOIR RHYNE

OATS

Just bumbling around . . . in the leaves on a lazy fall day . . . starting the long walk from Morgan in the snow . . . at the faculty ball game where athletic ability abounds . . . at practice as the drill team and band combine talents . . . or just pushing it along across campus to that last class on Friday . . .

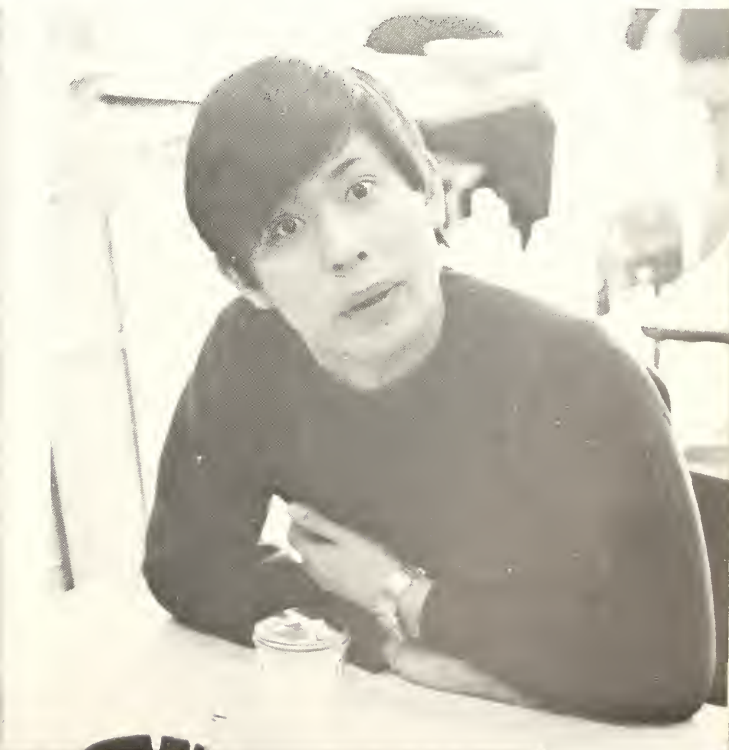

Students at play . . . our favorite pastime . . . the pool table . . . the "Sons of Pitch" entertain at dinner . . . "Slinky" at the Chariot Race . . . or "the play's the thing" at the Love Feast . . . Fuqua does a solo . . . or couples "study" the tube . . . and couples "study" each other . . .

Our antics and our pranks . . . the funeral of the year, complete with laughing Chaplain . . . "Here lies Fuqua for all insurance men to see" . . . or the deadly gaze through an empty mailbox . . . Patti wants a smoke . . . and Birmingham tries to calm "Hanley" on the field . . . and one brave student challenges that professor over coffee in the Snack Bar . . .

Those perplexing situations . . . How do you figure out twenty-five different specimens in the lab . . . or explain a dirty joke to a friend . . . or help Mr. Burton build a kiln . . . or build a prop for the show . . . or make a black child know you love her . . . and, most of all, where do you find peace and quiet for yourself and the books? . . .

The diligent Student . . . in the quiet of the "lib" . . . in the hustle and bustle of the lab . . . at the deaf school . . . in the behind-the-scenes theater . . . at the Morganton School of Nursing . . . at that final hour of beauty, Graduation . . .

Off and running in the rough-and-tumble world of college football, the Lenoir Rhyne Bears once again turned in an admirable performance in 1970. After a rather slow start the Bruins reeled off six victories in their last eight starts to finish the season with a 7-4 overall record and a 4-1 mark in the Carolinas Conference.

Kicking off the season with a new opponent, the Bears opened their 1970 gridiron exploits with a 27-14 victory over Gardner-Webb. The joy of winning did not last for long, however, as the Bruin team fell to its first defeat of the season on the following Saturday against Wofford, a team that eventually finished second in the NAIA.

The only major blot on the Bruin season came in their third game when they faced Presbyterian on College Field. In a tight battle all the way the Bears went into the closing minutes with a 10-7 lead only to have their hopes dashed to the rocks by a touchdown pass with less than two minutes remaining in the contest. This loss left the Bears with one defeat in the conference, Presbyterian went on to go undefeated in the league, and the Bears were forced to settle for second place.

After those consecutive losses the Bruins put on their winning shoes and bounced back to win the majority of their remaining games. In those last eight weeks of the season they took victories over Newberry, arch-rival Appalachian, Guilford, homecoming opponent Carson-Newman, Elon, and Catawba. Their only other losses came at the hands of Western Carolina and West Chester State.

What is it like to read the last chapter in a great book or see the last scene in a terrific movie or play? To many there comes a feeling of disappointment or sadness because there is no more to come, and this is just the type of experience that many Lenoir Rhyne football fans had this year.

Those fans were the witness to the last great football exploits of a number of Lenoir Rhyne's top gridiron wizards. In an era in which the Bears have produced some of the best football players ever to grace the Carolinas Conference, 1970 marked the end of the careers of several of the Bruins' best performers in the history of the school.

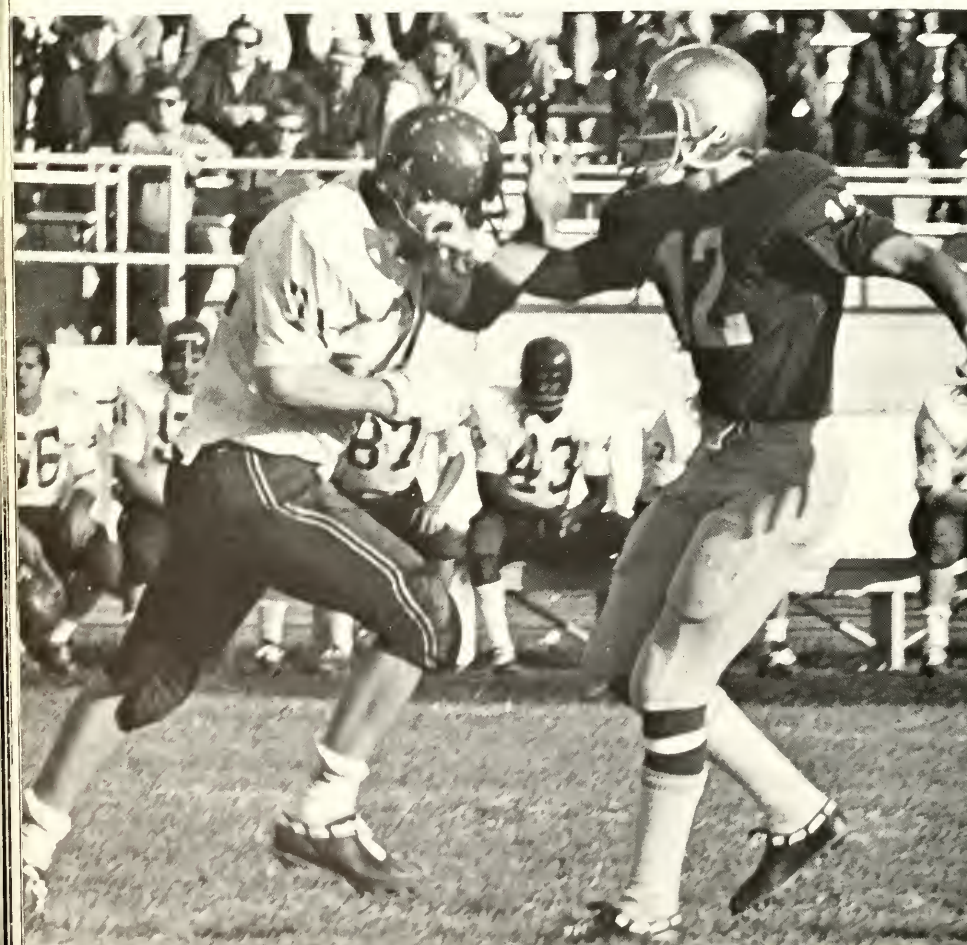

Topping that list of Bruin stars were four seniors — Carl Bartles, Tom Lumsden, Mike McRee, and Brian Jack. Bartles finished his career as the premier running back in the Carolinas Conference, while Lumsden went down in league annals as, perhaps, the best defensive lineman ever to wear the colors of a conference school. McRee, too, sealed his position in conference history as one of the greatest running and passing backs in the league, and Jack finished the year as the most productive pass receiver in Lenoir Rhyne history.

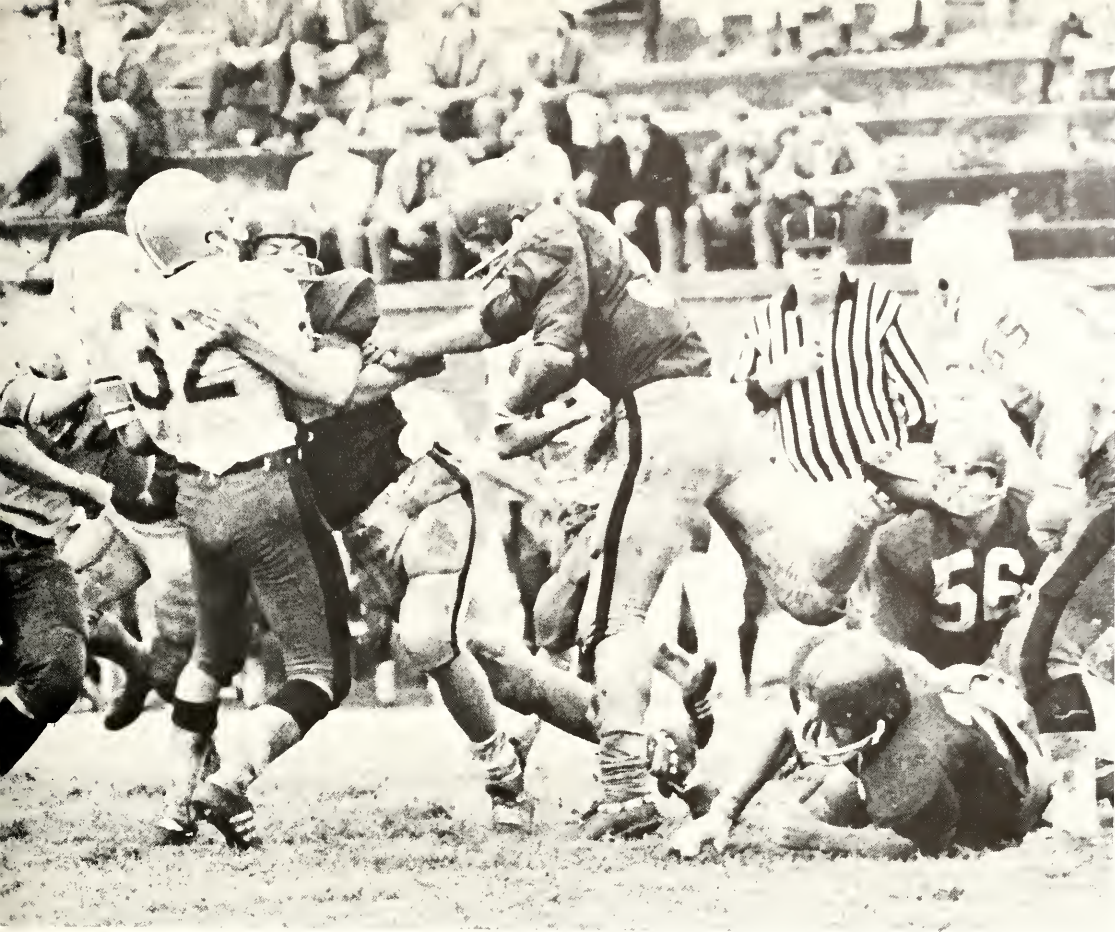

In this year of great stars a number of school, conference, and state records fell by the wayside. Bartles headed the list of record breakers, setting the state mark for career rushing yardage, the conference record for most rushing attempts in a season, the league mark for most rushing yards in a season, the school record for most offensive plays in a season, and a number of others.

McRee fell right behind Bartles in the record-setting department as he, too, broke the conference record for career rushing yardage. He also set the school mark for total offense and missed the conference record only because of an injury that forced him to sit out of a majority of the last two games.

Jack set the precedent for future Lenoir Rhyne pass receivers, finishing the season as the school's top man in a number of receiving categories. Sophomore kicker Tommy Ross also got in on the record-breaking act as he set the conference record for most points in a season by kicking and the school mark for most consecutive points after touchdowns.

To cap their fine performances a number of Bruin stars received post-season honors. Bartles, Lumsden, McRee, Jack, and offensive guard John Shroeder were named to various All-Carolinas Conference teams, while Bartles and Lumsden also copped All-District honors. Lumsden was further honored by being named the top defensive player in the Carolinas Conference for 1970. To peak their success Bartles and Lumsden were both named to the 1970 Little All-America team.

Athletic coaches often speak rather idealistically about that much longed-for quality of team play. They dream of a squad that is made up of equal players, one that does not depend on one or two superstars. Unfortunately, however, these coaches rarely see their dreams materialize into reality. They usually remain only dreams and nothing more.

Such was not the case for Lenoir Rhyne's new basketball coach, however, as he was treated to a squad that personified team play all through the 1970-71 season. The Barnett-led cagers made use of their entire roster, and there was very little distinction between the first and second Bruin teams.

The Bears' final statistics pointed out the team effort as a number of players finished high in both the rebounding and scoring categories. Six Bruins finished the season with scoring averages that ranged from 9.5 points per game to 11.2. Six Bears ended the season with rebounding averages of 3.2 a contest to 8.0. Other statistics followed the same course.

It can be argued, and perhaps, it is true that it is good to have a superstar — to draw large crowds, to make money for the school, and other things, but that argument would never convince the balanced Bruin squad that took 17 wins in 1970-71 with a real TEAM EFFORT.

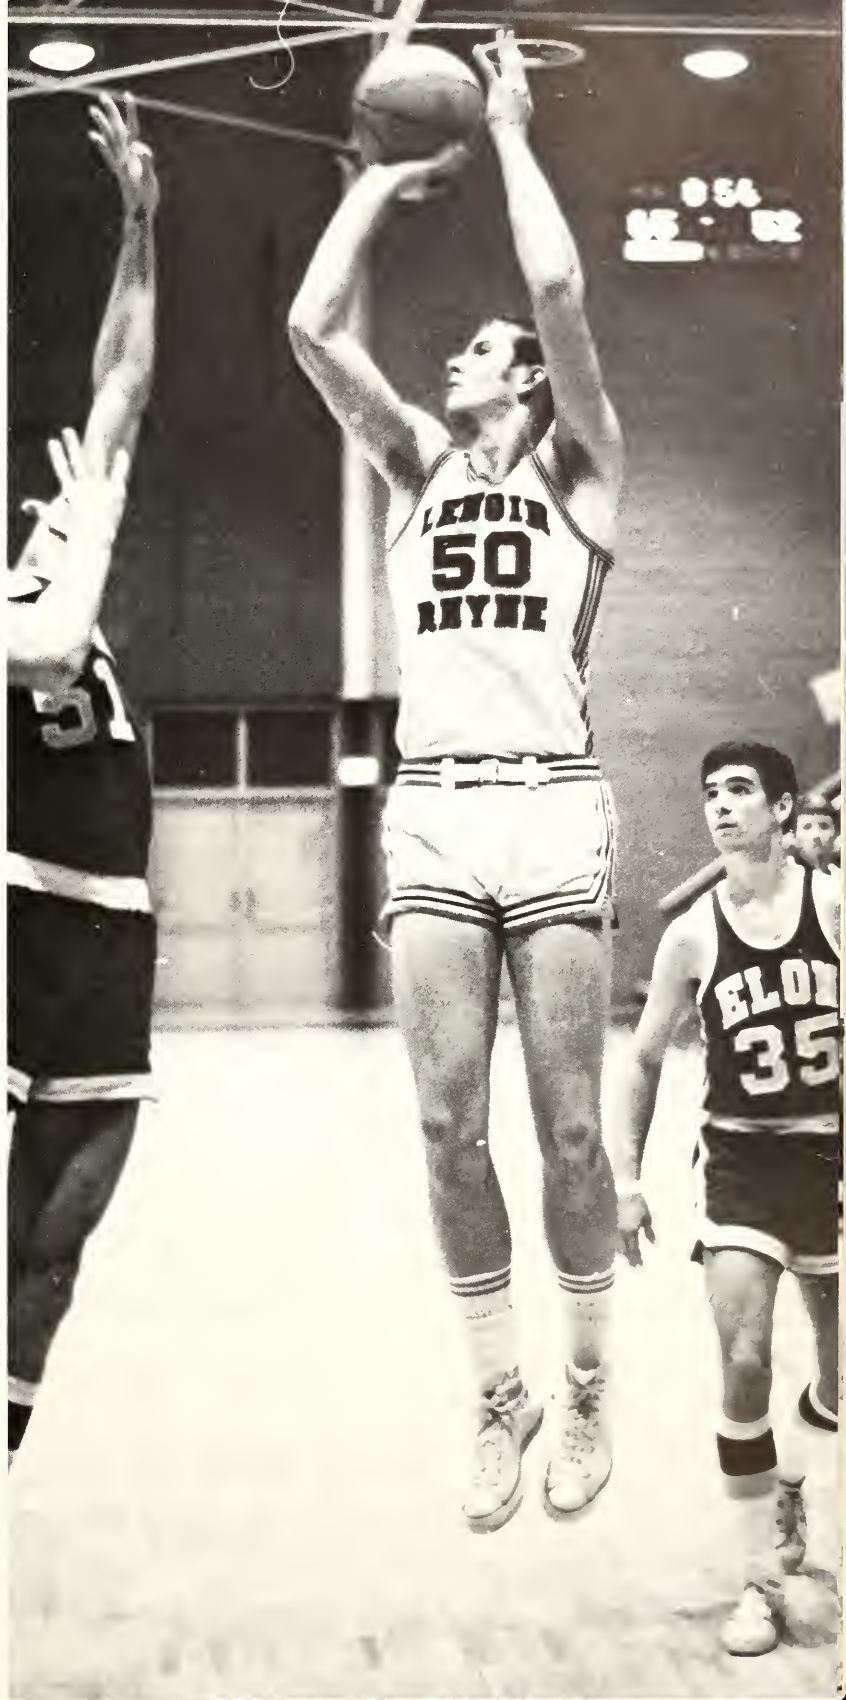

Surprising everyone but themselves and their new coach, the Lenoir Rhyne cagers raced to a 17-9 overall record and a 10-4 Carolinas Conference mark in the 1970-71 season. The Bruins disregarded the loss of three key starters from last year's team and the ensuing pre-season predictions of a low finish in the league standings to turn in a fine effort all year.

After holding second-place in the conference for the majority of the season, the Bear basketballers finally fell to a third-place finish as they dropped their final league tilt in the last week of the season. Advancing then to the conference tournament, the Bruins dumped their first-round opponent before being eliminated in the semi-finals by a strong Guilford squad.

The season was one of ups and downs for the Bruins as they saw both the high points of victory and the low points of defeat. There were the big wins — 76-63 over Elon in the season-opener, 88-82 over Guilford at Shuford Gym, 102-83 over arch-rival Appalachian in the last game of the regular season, but there were also the disappointing losses — 64-55 to Wofford in one of the team's worst performances, 75-71 to Pfeiffer in the Falcons' tiny gym, and 62-52 to Guilford in the semi-finals of the league tourney.

Through it all, however, through victory and defeat, the Bear cagers showed one thing. They are coming. A dedicated young team with J. D. Barnett, a young coach who is quickly proving to be one of the top coaches in the Carolinas Conference, at the helm, the Bruin basketball team appears to be a team of the future. All signs point to bigger and better things in upcoming years.

Intramurals

Lenoir Rhyne has a very extensive program in intramurals. There are both boys and girls sports, under the control and supervision of Mrs. Jenkins and Dr. Ochs.

Boys intramurals include football, volleyball, basketball, wrestling, tennis, pool, and various other sports. Girls intramurals include softball, volleyball, basketball, and tennis.

In boys intramural football the Theta Chi Oxen defeated the Tau Kappa Epsilon Sugar Cubs. The Handlers and the Theta Chi Roadrunners tied for third place. In volleyball the Theta Chi Hitters defeated the Theta Chi Oxen for the Volleyball Championship.

In girls intramural softball the Kappa Delta team took first place. In volleyball the Delta Zeta Pink won over the Kappa Delta Winners.

Dr. Howard Seymour

Mary Louise Brown

The 1971 HACAWA is the product of long hours of work by many people. We would especially like to thank the section heads who worked hard to meet their deadlines, and our photographers, Jerry Moore, James Labrenz, Charlie McKenzie and Danny Runkle, who gave up a great deal of time and effort to produce some outstanding photography.

We would also like to give a special thanks to Linda Rice, Peggy Mercer, Dr. Glenn Whitesides, Mr. Sam Baker, Dr. Joseph Glass, and most of all to Leon Lewis of Delmar Printing Company. All of these people gave extra time and cooperation to help us when we needed it.

We hope the 1971 HACAWA represents YOUR idea of Lenoir Rhyne.

Mary and Dianne
